Help Me Help Others

A year later, after this fit and healthy Fijian woman nearly lost her life to a manageable GI condition. Dr Chris Hair, ANZGITA clinical teacher since 2010, Director, South Pacific Programs Lead and proud member of a wonderful, thriving and ongoing teaching program.

I am one of ANZGITA's volunteer community of gastroenterology professionals who train colleagues in developing Indo-Pacific countries to advance the healthcare and quality of life for their people.

I invite you to please consider donating to the good health of the poorest nations and invest in the future of gastroenterology best practice to help build self-sustaining communities of committed and skilled medical practitioners.

ANZGITA runs in-country and virtual training programs in partnership with medical and academic centres. Your support helps build medical capacity, provide much needed equipment, training in clean and safe facilities, and foster relationships amongst our Pacific neighbours.

Thank you, Dr Chris Hair
